Fire Chief Offers Advice on Burning

In view of the recent smog hazard that plagued one of our California cities, and with regard to the findings of their smog committee, which put the greatest responsibility for the nuisance on incinerators Fred Pimental, Albany Fire Chief, has come up with a few pointers which may help control smoke in this area.

The Chief says that when burning in your incinerator be sure that the material is dry. At this time of the year persons put garden trimmings in to burn but these just smoulder, giving off large quantities of smoke. If it is not possible to set the debris aside to dry it, it is best to take it to the dumps. In this manner complaints from smoke in this area may be cut to a minimum, according to the Chief.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers have proclaimed the week of October 3 through 10 as PTA Membership Week, and

WHEREAS the parent - teacher association of Albany High, Cornell, C. M. MacGregor, Marin and Vista in Albany, have banded together in a city - wide membership drive, and

WHEREAS they hope to make people aware of the importance of parent - teacher associations in serving the community, and

WHEREAS the interest and support of everyone is needed to help the parent- teacher associations reach their goal of bringing the home and school into closer relationship for mutual benefit as well as benefit by the community, and

WHEREAS membership in a PTA is open to all friends of children and youth,

NOW, I, therefore, Lewis M. Howell, mayor of Albany, do hereby proclaim the week of October 3 through 10, 1955, as 'Albany PTA Membership Week."

Lewis M. Howell,
Mayor.

Albany High Membership Drive to Open

Believe in Youth.
Belong for Youth.
Build for Youth.

Above is the combination slogan which has been adopted for the Albany High School membership drive, which will begin next Monday, Oct. 3, in concurrence with the Albany city - wide PTA drive for membership.

Mrs. Mills Darnell, second vice-president, in charge of membership of the high school unit, is also general chairman of the membership committee of the five Albany Schools.

Through the concerted efforts of this committee, Mrs. Darnell hopes the parents will be stimulated to make this year's PTA membership at Albany High School, as well as at the other four Albany schools, reach an all - time high. Letters are being sent to parents of high school students to explain the purpose and aims of the Albany High PTA unit.

An Open Letter To The People Of Albany

An open letter to the people of Albany:

"Do you believe in youth. Are you ready to help these children and young people who are our future leaders and citizens?

"If so, the five parent - teacher associations of Albany stand ready to welcome you into their membership. The week of Oct. 3 through 10 has been proclaimed by Mayor Lewis M. Howell as 'Albany PTA Membership Week.'

'Will you join your nearest PTA, whether it be Albany High School, Cornell, C. M. MacGregor, Marin or Vista, and thus become one of a national association of over a million people who believe in building with youth?

"You do not need to be a mother or a father or a grandparent to join a parent - teacher association. Your interest in helping children in Albany and elsewhere is the only requisite for membership. We need you! Your $1 membership will entitle you to take an active part in our activities. Your investment of this one dollar will do an immense amount of good in such child welfare channels as the Nourishment Association for Albany Children, the Albany - Berkeley Braille Transcription Group, the Herrick Dental Clinic, the Albany - Berkeley Clothing Room, the Albany - Berkeley Campership Fund, Juvenile Hall of Alameda County and numerous others.

"Will you join a PTA this week? Call any of the membership chairmen, if you do not have a child in school, or return the membership envelope your child will bring home. Help Albany go over the top with each of its five PTAs having 100 percent membership. Help the wooden thermometer in front of Albany Library to rise to the top!

"The membership chairmen are: Albany High School, Mrs. Mills J. Darnell; Cornell, Mrs. Ted McCain; MacGregor, Mrs. Eugene Warren; Marin, Mrs. Clyde Nottingham, and Vista, Mrs. Oscar Karst and Mrs. Daniel Moody.

Sincerely,
The Albany City-Wide Membership Committee,
By, Virginia Darnell,
Chairman."

Mrs. Zahn Wins Round in Clash Over Bus Cut

Learning last Thursday night that Key System was planning a further curtailment in 'G" bus line service connecting with San Francisco, Mrs. Kathe Zahn worked a good part of the night preparing 15 copies of a new complaint, which she presented to the Public Utility Commission on Friday morning. Verbally and in her written complaint she attacked the rail line for not living up to the terms of its franchise with the City of Albany, in that the city was entitled to advance notice of any proposed curtailment.

In her new complaint she detailed her observations as to the shortcomings in service to the public, and especially to the citizens of Albany. In her formal complaint she said: "Commuters are now paying an exorbitant price for the questionable pleasure of riding to work on Key System buses, and certainly should not be subjected to being transported like a herd of cattle."

As a result of Mrs. Zahn's complaint, made as a "citizen" and not as a member of the Albany Council, President Peter Mitchell of the State Public Utilities Commission ordered Key System to hold up its proposed curtailment until a thorough investigation has been made of Mrs. Zahn's charges.

The complaint also brought PUC engineers under fire when she said,

SLAUGHTER OF POULTRY ISSUE ON MONDAY

A single holdover item on the second page of last Monday night's council meeting agenda held the Albany City Council in session until nearly 10 o'clock, at which time Mayor Howell ruled the matter too important to be decided with two of the five members absent, and announced the troublesome problem would be held over until next Monday. Councilmen Jerome Blank and Edward Combs were unable to be present.

The question at issue appeared innocuous on the agenda, reading as follows:

"Re. Albany Poultry Market—Ordinance No. 784 (First Reading.)"

The proposed ordinance, drawn up by the City Attorney Robert Foley at the request of the Council, would forbid the slaughter of poultry within the city limits, and would amend Ordinance No. 444, adopted some 16 years ago, and which permitted such slaughter on property zoned as "Heavy Industry." The council had, at that time, spot - zoned the area involved in this category.

The same issue was the subject of a three - year court fight starting some 18 years ago, and which was eventually concluded by the rezoning of the property, and the passing of Ordinance No. 444, which governs the sanitary matters connected with the slaughter of rabbits and poultry. More recent complaints culminated in a comparatively "clean bill of health" from the city's sanitary expert Bartley McIntyre who said the plant met all the requirements of the city's health ordinance, although he admitted that "it causes odors from one - half to two hours at a time, one or two days a week."

The council heard complaints from several residents of the area, and also from William Heath, who operates the plant; from Charles Castronovo, who rents the plant to Heath; and from G. R. Kirkpatrick of Napa County, vice chairman of the Poultry Department of the California Farm Bureau. Kirkpatrick warned the council to be "very very careful in its action as it is attracting a lot of notice. We are willing to fight," he said.

Mayor Howell told the audience that he would not favor any further slaughtering in the city, but that he felt that since the Albany Poultry Market had been operating almost 16 years, it would be unfair for the city Council to pass a law at this point halting its operations. "I don't believe we should legislate this man out of business," he said.

In other action the council voted to ask the Board of Supervisors for the sum of $30,000 toward elimi-

Albany Public Library

Some of this fall's interesting new fiction lately received at the Albany Library includes the much heralded new novel by Herman Wouk, "Marjorie Morningstar."

Like its predecessor, the Caine Mutiny, Wouk's latest seems destined for the top of best seller lists across the country.

Briefly, it is a sensitive story of a gifted and ambitious American girl's struggle to be true to herself amid the by-ways of the old marriage - versus - career conflict. Color borrowed from the theatrical fringes of Manhattan and warm vignettes of the middle - class Jewish family life provide an absorbing background to the tale of Miss Morningstar's pursuit of her dream of happiness.

"The Man in The Gray Flannel Suit," by Sloan Wilson, plucks a Brooks Bros. uniformed commuter from right off the station platform and shows us what happens inside this man who emerges with the crowd when he halts in his deadly pursuit of careermanship to face himself and the responsibilities of his past with the weapon of honesty instead of expediency.

"The Wine of Youth," by Robert Wilder presents the story of the growth of an empire of oil in the imaginary county of Vega, Texas, and with the turbulent lives and fortunes of two families, Mexican and Anglo, whose destinies are inseparably involved with each other and with the pursuit of power.

"Band of Angels," by the noted American poet and novelist, Robert Penn Warren is another "Southern" of ambitious scope, though far fewer pages than many of this ilk.

The first person related up and downs of beautiful Amantha Starr, the heroine of gentle birth, who finds herself one day not only orphaned, but for sale as a slave because of some long-forgotten miscegenation in her family tree, will hold the interest of readers whether or not they care to indulge in the decipherment of author Warren's symbolism.

Clemence Dane reappears on the scene offering "The Flower Girls," like her much - loved "Broom Stages," a family chronicle, tracing the story of a theater - connected family whose beautiful women turned head off - stage as well as on through several generations. A study in psychological romance is offered in the relationship of young Jacy with the older woman, the fascinating Olive.

For professional spice there is much name dragging from Burbage to Kazan and Kanin.

For those who like their spines well - chilled, Margaret Miller has contributed a rousing story of suspense and malevolence in the feminine manner in, "Best in View."

An enterprise, when fairly once begun, should not be left till all that ought is won.—Shakespeare.

The previous record high enrollment was the 1054 of the fall semester of 1954. The college this year added 26 new faculty members, the largest group ever hired in a single year. Creative Art Classes at Adult Center

Both day and an evening class in creative art at the Albany Adult Education Center, 603 Key Route Blvd., are open to further enrollments, both of residents of Albany and of neighboring communities. The Wednesday morning class, 9 to 12, is taught by Virginia Sevier Rogers, a professional artist. The class on Thursday evenings, 7 to 10, has Freeman Sargent, art teacher at Albany High School, as the instructor.

These classes are especially designed to offer experimentation in the field of creative drawing and painting, including portrait work, still life and landscape. Those who wish may concentrate on pure design, which has proved very satisfying to many in relation to interior decorating and as a basic element in developing any craft. Arrangements will be made occasionally for a model.

Since art has many related fields, there is opportunity in the creative art classes to experiment with one or more of these. Besides freehand drawing and water and oil painting, students may do textile painting and silk screen process work in either class. Some students may desire to create their own Christmas cards or gift wrappings, as well as personalized gifts. Clay modeling and block printing will also be offered in Mr. Sargent's class for those who wish to experiment in these particular fields.

WHAT'S DOING

School children visit "Telezonia"

If your youngsters should come home from school some day soon talking about a fabulous land of puppets, here's what it's all about. An entertaining color motion picture called "Adventure in Telezonia" is now available to the elementary schools in this area. The movie is part of a special kit we telephone people have worked out at the request of teachers and with their assistance.

We lend the kit to schools to help children learn how to use th telephone correctly. This is important. For the kind of telephon service you enjoy depends a lot on the way you and others us the phone. So the good telephone habits "Telezonia" is teachin school children will help make telephone service better and mo useful for everyone. Pacific Telephone works to make your tel phone a bigger value every day.

Away-to-school days needn't "break up" a family

Maybe there's a young man woman in your family wh going away to school this fa If so, you can still stay in clo personal touch with each oth you know. For it takes ju moments to travel from ho to campus, or campus to hom by telephone. And a qui glance at the rates in your te phone book will show you h little it costs. Why not let lo cost long distance make fam reunions a frequent event d ing the school year ahead.

Now you Can Help the Most

This year our community is a part of the largest single citizens' effort in the Bay Area—the five-county United Bay Area Crusade. Through your gift to United Crusade you are supporting over 90 per cent of all voluntary health and welfare agencies in the Bay Area—you fight disease, support medical research, provide counsel for people in trouble, bring help to those stricken with disaster, and extend a friendly hand to distressed travelers and to service men away from home.

Now everybody in the community benefits from One Big Gift.

Driving at 50 miles per hour you see 14 per cent less than you do when driving at 45 miles per hour, points out the National Automobile Club. If you would see more, and drive more safely, slow down.
